

Q1. I previously sent in my PI requirements on Feb. 3rd. Do I need to resend them now that the requirements have been revised?

A1. There is no need to resend your experience table as the information requested has not changed.

Q2. What's the status for announcing the New Frontiers cost cap and related info? The e-mail message from Jan 22 that first announced NF PI qualifications said to expect the information in February.

A2. The decisions on the cost cap and related information have not been made yet. As soon as these decisions are made they will be announced.